ANOTHER VICTORY.

RICHMOND, June 16.

Editor Bulletin:

Gen. Early has stormed the enemy's entrenchments at Winchester, captured their artillery, &c.

J. H. R.

OFFICIAL DISPATCH.

RICHMOND, June 16.—The following is a dispatch from Gen. Lee to President Davis, dated 15th inst.:

"God has again crowned the valor of our troops. Earley's division stormed the enemy's entrenchments at Winchester, capturing their Artillery, &c.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, June 16.—We have no army news this morning.

The weather is very warm and there has been no rain in this vicinity for several weeks.

The Governor of Illinois, upon a pretext—the Legislature not being able to agree upon a time to adjourn—issued a proclamation adjourning the session.

The Republicans left the hall and the Democrats not having a quorum were unable to trancact business.

This act of the Governor has caused intence indignation.

The Supreme Court of Indiana has decided that the interest on the State debt cannot be paid, the Legislature having failed to make appropriations for that purpose.

The railroad companies in Pennsylvania are erecting defensive works to protect their bridges.

LATER FROM THE U. STATES.

RICHMOND, June 16.—A copy of the New York Herald, of the 13th inst., has been received, but most of the news has been anticipated by extracts from the Washington Chronicle.

The Herald predicts that Gen. Lee will make a descent upon Winchester and Harpers Ferry with an overwhelming force, and then move rapidly with Stuarts whole column across Maryland into Pennsylvania, upon a mission of plunder and destruction, by way of retaliation.

The Democratic Convention of Delaware has adopted resolutions among which is one declaring that they will hail with delight any expression of desire on the part of the seceded States to return to the allegience, and they will cooperate with the citizens of those States to restore peace.

NORTHERN NEWS.

SHELBYVILLE, June 13.

All quiet in front. Two rebel officers, spies, disguised—Lt. W. G. Peters and Capt. Lawrence Williams, alias Col. Lawrence Weston—were arrested on the night of the 8th.

Rosencranz ordered a trial by drumhead court martial and if found guilty be hung. The execution followed immediately.

The New York Tribune of the 9th has a special dispatch from Washington dated the 9th states that the seige at Vicksburg is progressing admirably. Seige guns were within pistol shot of the enemy's works.

Lincoln was in perfect ecstacy about Grant's operations and confident that he can be reinforced faster and heavier than the rebels.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Admiral Foote was making extensive preperations to assume command of the South Atlantic squadron.

A new attack on Charleston was expected.

SHELBYVILLE, June 15.

The Louisville papers of the 12th have dispatches dated Columbus Ohio, which say the Democratic Convention nominated Vallandigham for Governor and Pugh for Lieutenant Governor.

The resolutions protest against the emancipation proclamation and also the banishment of Vallandigham.

The Convention appointed a committee to wait on Lincoln and to demand Vallandigham's restoration.

The Journal says that a Federal officer from Vicksburg on Friday, reports Grant's reinforcements to exceed 60.000 of all arms.

The fall of Vicksburg is inevitable—its fall being delayed only to save blood.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Private dispatches from Grant, dated Monday. says he is communicating with Banks.

Johnston is concentrating his troops and endeavoring to cross the Big Black with 20,000.

STOCKHOLDERS MEETING.

The Stockholders of the North Carolina Military Institute will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in E. Nye Hutchison's office to consider matters of great importance. A full attendance is requested.

Charlotte Semi-Weekly Bulletin will publish the Sheriff's Sale Notice in Gaston County Court six times and send bill to the Sheriff for collection.

THE STEAMER ADELA.—The newspaper press of this country is unanimous in their decision that this steamer is an illegal prize, and as such ought to be given up at once to the owners. We were informed yesterday, on the best authority, that this fast sailing steamer is being fitted up as a gunboat by the Federals. If the Government of the United States is determined to have this vessel as a gunboat by illegal means, it is, in our opinion, high time that her Majesty's Government should interfere, as no amount of compensation can justify such an outrageous proceeding. It appears that the United States Government, seeing that they cannot build fast sailing steamers, are determined to appropriate to their own use whatever vessels they may capture, without the slightest regard to nationality, or to enable them to commit further depredations upon our commerce, and seize other steamers engaged in a legitimate trade.

We trust that her Majesty's Government will look to this, and demand the immediate release of this steamer, with ample compensation, as we cannot afford to supply the Federals with first class steamers to our injury.—Liverpool Journal of Commerce.

PROSPECTUS OF THE CHARLESTON MERCURY

A POLITICAL, COMMERCIAL AND LITERARY NEWSPAPER

PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY

THE MERCURY gives daily reports of the Market and Marine Intelligence in Charleston, and of Charleston commerce in the leading seaports of the world. The Weekly Prices Current is made up with much care, and from the most reliable sources. Its connection with the "Associated Press" insures the latest intelligence by Telegraph and the earliest news by Steamers from Europe. It has an able and accomplished Correspondent in London (a gentleman connected with the editorial staff of the London Times) and regular Correspondents in New York, Washington, Key West and Havana. The monthly New York Fashion Letters and weekly letters on Life in Washington are additional attractions in favor of its lady readers. Its literary notices, from the pen of a gentleman who occupies perhaps the highest position among the literary men of the South, are discriminating and comprehensive.—Attention is paid to all matters of general concern, especially those in reference to the Planting and Agricultural interest, and to the current news of the day. Great care is taken that nothing shall appear in its columns which should be excluded from the family circle.

The political creed of the MERCURY consists in the principles of the Democratic Party, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799—the Sovereignty of the States; a strict construction of the Federal Constitution by the General Government, the agent of the States; Free Trade, and an economical Administration of the Government. Its policy is the Union of the Southern States in maintaining their rights.

Terms—Payable in Advance.

DAILY, per annum.....$10.00
TRI-WEEKLY.....5.00

Clubs will be Furnished as follows:

Five Copies of the DAILY for.....$40.00

Nor will orders from without the city to publish Advertisements, Marriage Notices, or Obituaries, be attended to, unless the cash, or an acceptable City reference, accompany the order. Money may always be forwarded at our risk in registered letters.

POSTMASTERS are authorized to act as our Agents in obtaining subscribers and forwarding the money; and by sending us Five DAILY subscribers, with $50 enclosed—or Five TRI-WEEKLY subscribers, with $25 enclosed, will be entitled to ad extra copy; or if preferred, they may retain Twenty per cent. of the price payment for their trouble and in lieu of the EXTRA paper.

Out of South Carolina, no person whatever is authorized to collect debts already due to the MERCURY. Bills will be rendered from time to time, and payment solicited at the hands of our patrons, to whom we return our thanks for their liberal support.

In Charleston, Mr. James Dunlap, connected with the office, is the only authorized collector who has full power to receipt for money now due the paper and to solicit its future patronage.

Subscribers and others in the country are urgently requested to send in their dues by mail at the earliest period. By so doing they will save us much trouble and expense, and enable us to furnish the paper with regularity to our numerous subscribers in the interior of the State.

The War in Mississippi.

A number of Gentlemen reached this city last evening, direct from Central Mississippi, all whom bring the most cheering accounts as to an improvement in the condition of affairs in that department

For several days previous to Monday last—when one of our informants left Gen. Johnston's Headquarters—there had been daily communications between the commanding Generals. Enough transpired to confirm previous reports of the signal repulses the enemy met with in their assaults upon our works. It was also known that several days Grant's infantry was quiet, and that nothing hostile, beyond a sharp bombardment that was doing no harm, had taken place. The cannonade is now acting in concert—Gen Pemberton having signified his ability to hold his position, so as to give Gen. Johnston time to organize his artillery, means of transportation and to withold this information from our own people who expecting immediate reinforcements, however, that these strangers have been supplied.

Gen. Pemberton believed his rations would hold out thirty days, but urged Johnston to come to his relief within ten days at the latest.

Cavalry horses have been turned loose and driven towards our lines, owing to the lack of forage. There was ammunition enough to last sixty days, with the single exception of gun caps. These were scarce. All confidently expected superhuman efforts to be made by those outside to relieve the beleaguered place.

They consider Vicksburg the strongest place in the Confederacy.

Treachery of a Bearer of Dispatches from Pemberton—He goes over to the Enemy—His story of Pemberton's army, etc.

The Northern papers publish what purports to be a statement of one Douglas, of Mason county, Illinois, who treacherously came into their lines, while passing as a messenger from General Pemberton to General Johnston—another illustration of the fatal policy of our Government in playing Northern men. It appears, as the story runs, that General Pemberton despatched two trusty officers, Douglas and Boyle, with duplicate dispatches; but no sooner had he passed out of our lines, on his mission, than he treacherously "embraces the golden opportunity," and goes over to his original friends, the Yankees, and dieclosses to them all he knows of the situation at Vicksburg. We copy some portion of the information thus derived by the enemy:

* * * Douglas was soon turned over to General Grant, and to him he revealed his mission, and gave the precious dispatch entrusted to him by General Pemberton. The substance of the latter, was as urgent demand for help, for Van: An urgent demand for help, number of reinforcements required, thirty thousand—effecting return if he could not bring that number upon Grant's rear with-in ten days—number of troops in Vicksburg, eighteen thousand—on hand, thirty days rations for the garrison, one meal a day—ammunition scarce, particularly grape. Douglas was further instructed to ascertain the exact number of Johnston's army, and report as speedily as possible.

He says there are 18,000 fighting men in Vicksburg, commanded by General Forrest, Stevens, Bowen, Lee, and H. L. Stevenson, Reynolds, Green and Cockrell. Gen Hebert is in command of the artillery. Gen. Moore is dead. Gen. Lee is wounded in the left arm, but not disabled. He has been at Meridian.

At the last engagement at Chancellorsville, he has done invaluable service. The high compliments paid him by (General) Lee, in charge-on this occasion. A battery had to be abandoned, which was meeting death and destruction to our ranks. After a reluctant on the part of other troops, Gen. Hoke proceived at once the advantage to be thus gained by its capture, and gave the order to charge fort battery, which was furiously executed, and in which manoeuver he was seen from a neighboring hill by the Commander-in Chief, Gen. Lee, who then and there complimented the "Young man" in the by General Pemberton for his conduct in the great battle of the 3d of May. Even on this side of the ocean the gallant soldier's fame will ever where be heard with pity and sympathy. Not only as a brave man fighting for his country's independence, but as one of the most consummate Generals this century has produced. "Stonewall" Jackson will carry with him to his early grave the regrets of all who can admire greatness and genius, when combined in Generous and pertinently, to deny the very opposite terms back into a position, which he could not retire-ment. In the battle of Sunday Jackson received two wounds—one in the left arm, the other in the right hand. Ampetation of the arm was necessary, and the Surgeons found it impossible to save the hand. Gen. Pemberton's report of the battle of Sunday Jackson's movements, confirmed by the judgment of European nations, have given the first place to General Jackson. The military fame he accomplished moved the minds of people with an astonishment which it is only given to the highest genius to produce.

Gen. Johnstons army concentrated with but little artillery, means of transportation and no commissary supplies. It was necessary to withold this information from our own people who expecting immediate reinforcements, however, that these strangers have been supplied.

The entire party were mostly from the extreme Southern States, were all dressed in new and handsome uniforms, and seemed to be in possession of a considerable amount of money. Soon as the party had effected a landing, Captain Deal resumed the command of the steamer, when she put back immediately to report to General Dix.—The facts were made known to the General, who instantly ordered out a strong detachment of Colonel Pierce's cavalry, and it was thought they would be able to overtake the party before they could get beyond the Federal lines.

Stories of Deserters from Vicksburg.

The Northern papers have a long batch of stories and lies of affairs at Vicksburg, "deserters from Vicksburg. One account says:

A deserter came into our lines this morning. He represents that he was sent by Gen. Pemberton to communicate with Gen. Grant.
